Summary

I am a dedicated and adaptable professional with a strong foundation in UI/UX design, as well as practical experience in the food delivery industry. With a passion for creating user-centered designs, I strive to blend creativity and functionality to deliver exceptional user experiences. My ability to collaborate effectively with teams, communicate clearly, and meet deadlines has been honed through both academic projects and hands-on work. In addition, my role as a food delivery rider has enhanced my time management, problem-solving, and customer service skills, making me a reliable and resourceful team member in any environment.
